ABOUT GENESIS

“ From the moment I arrived, I began to realize -- this is a room of like-minded individuals intent on seeing the Gospel spread and healthy, missionally minded communities planted. And in the lonely world of church planting, I can think of few things more valuable than having a handful of friends like that.

“ The setting of the Holy Trinity community was wonderful with its rhythm of prayer and contemplative atmosphere. Hard to imagine a better setting for listening to God and seeing what it is He might be birthing through you.

BOB HYATT / PORTLAND, OR

WHAT TO BRING

Holy Trinity provides sheets and towels for each guest. You will need to bring all other toiletries with you. In addition, please bring along any relevant documents and resources related to your particular church plant. This could include vision pieces, working budgets, drafts of values, demographic information, etc. Obviously, you should bring a copy of the scriptures with you.

THE ECCLESIA DIFFERENCE

Genesis is unique in comparison to other church planters training opportunities available.

First, there will not be hundreds of people here. More than likely, there will be somewhere between 20 - 30. This means plenty of room for dialog, conversation, and questions amidst all of the planned training.

Second, everyone stays, eats, and prays together for the week. Most people leave with better friendships, some of which will be life-long, because they started the church planting journey - in this way - together.

Third, there will be a host of different equippers with unique planting stories.

This gathering [as in all we try to do] isn’t dominated by just a few individuals or models of church planting. You’ll hear from a variety of planters, both seasoned and new, and learn from their experiences and approaches.

Finally, we hope to provide a good balance of theology, theory, and practicality. Each component is vital.
